Mellon Capital Management Names Anjun Zhou Head of Asset Allocation Research

BNY Mellon Investment Boutique Adds to Global Asset Allocation Team

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21, 2010 – Mellon Capital Management Corporation, part of BNY Mellon Asset Management, has named Anjun Zhou as managing director, head of asset allocation research, where she will focus on research to further improve investment strategies and risk controls for Mellon Capital's Global Asset Allocation strategies. She reports to Jeff Zhang, managing director and head of multi-strategy at Mellon Capital.

"We are pleased to welcome Anjun, who has extensive experience in global macro strategies," said Zhang. "She will provide strong leadership for the asset allocation research group as it continues to enhance existing strategies and develop new ones."

Zhou joined Mellon Capital from Morgan Stanley Investment Management, where she was executive director of global macro and asset allocation and a portfolio manager. Previously, she was vice president at Deutsche Asset Management and a principal at State Street Global Advisors. She was awarded her PhD in finance at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign- College of Business and her bachelor's and master's at Beijing University.
